What is Homebound Delivery?

Homebound Delivery is a free service in which library materials are brought to the homes of individuals who are unable to visit the library due to disability or illness.

Who is eligible for the service?

Billerica residents who are unable to visit the library because of disability or illness are eligible for the service.

How does the service work?

Residents can make requests for books, DVDs, music CDs, audiobooks, magazines, and similar items.

Residents without a library card will be registered for one.

Requested items will typically be delivered on Wednesday of the week following a request.

When items are ready to be returned, residents can contact the library to arrange for a pickup.

No overdue fines will be assessed for items and items may be renewed provided there are no pending holds.

How do I request service?

 You can request service by calling Joe St. Germain, Outreach Librarian, at 978-671-0948 ext. 4113.

 Service can also be requested by completing an online form on our website: www.billericalibrary.org/hbapp.html.

 Patrons can also complete the form included in this brochure and mail it to:
